Consequences Comics

Create your own comic that illustrates the idea of unintended consequences. Starting with box 1, draw a picture of a person trying to do good—what happens first? Does a superhero try to save the day? Then, in box 2, illustrate what happened next. Finally, end with a drawing in box 3 that shows the unintended consequences that resulted from those actions. Did the superhero really save the day—or while she was trying to stop the bad guy, did she accidentally knock down somebody's house? (Use with chapter 7)

Three empty rectangular boxes arranged horizontally, intended for drawing a comic. Each box is defined by a double-line border.
