

POSITIVELY TORAH

Step inside the Art – Family Discussion

Chapter 11 – Gratitude

“Step Inside the Art” is a recurring activity that allows learners to slow down, look closely at artistic creations, step inside the scenes depicted, and see biblical texts in fresh and exciting ways. The artwork presented is intended to enhance our understanding of positive character strengths through Torah.

Throughout the year, you will receive “Step Inside the Art” activities to discuss with your child.

Gratitude: You are aware of and thankful for good things that happen.

Here is the Step Inside the Art your child discussed as they learned about Miriam and the superpower of Gratitude.

Ask your child to share what they discussed in class, then share your own responses to the questions. I hope you enjoy talking about this art together.

Thank you for partnering in building your child’s understanding and appreciation of Torah and positive character strengths.

POSITIVELY TORAH

- How does the body language of Miriam and the Israelite women convey Zest?
- What does Gratitude look like in this art?
- How does the artist present Miriam as a leader?
- What do you imagine the Israelite women are thinking?

Turn to Miriam, a Dugma of Gratitude.

▲ Sir Edward John Poynter, a British painter, created this wood engraving of Miriam in 1864.